Located at the end of a residential private footpath, the property opens into a welcoming entrance with a modern fitted kitchen, featuring a range of wall, floor and drawer units, integrated appliances and a gas hob. The kitchen provides a practical and sociable space, with room for a breakfast table and excellent natural light. Beyond the kitchen is the inviting sitting room, which forms the heart of the home. A feature fireplace, engineered oak flooring, fitted shelving and useful storage combine to create a comfortable and characterful space, while a rear door provides a wonderful connection with the garden. The generous windows allow plenty of natural light to flood the room and offer views towards the garden and Lion Green beyond. Also on the ground floor is a stylish modern bathroom, fitted with a freestanding-style bath with shower above, wash hand basin, WC, heated towel rail and attractive tiling. The combination of contemporary fittings and period character works particularly well throughout the house.

Upstairs are two well-proportioned double bedrooms. The principal bedroom is a particularly good-sized room, with built-in storage either side of the chimney breast and a pleasant outlook over the garden towards Lion Green. The second bedroom is equally versatile and currently arranged as a cheerful children's bedroom with thoughtful storage.

A particular feature of the property is the former coal shed, which has been thoughtfully converted to create a versatile additional space. With mains power and plumbing, it is currently used as a utility area and spare room, incorporating laundry facilities and useful storage. It offers excellent potential for use as a home office, hobby room, guest space or additional accommodation, subject to any necessary consents. There is also further hardstanding adjoining the building, providing scope for additional use. Or the ability to extend subject to the necessary planning consents.

Outside, the enclosed south-facing rear garden is a wonderful asset to the property and is over 50 feet long and over 12 feet wide. Generously proportioned and surrounded by established planting, flowers and shrubs, it provides a peaceful and private setting in which to relax and entertain. A gravel pathway leads through the garden to a gate providing direct access onto Lion Green and the adjoining play area. An especially useful feature for families. The garden also benefits from a seating area, garden shed and attractive mature greenery, creating a lovely backdrop to the house. There is also a useful front garden too which is 25 feet long and over 18 feet wide.
