AT A GLANCE: THE CHARLTONS

Charlton Adam forms one half of The Charltons - a pair of neighbouring villages, Charlton Adam and Charlton Mackrell, that together create a warm and welcoming rural community in the desirable heart of South Somerset.

The two villages share amenities, traditions and a strong sense of identity, offering residents the charm of country living enriched by an active and supportive local network. Defined by their peaceful lanes, open countryside and close-knit feel, they offer the timeless appeal of English village living while remaining well connected to nearby towns and transport links.

For families, Charlton Mackrell Church of England Primary School and Preschool is a warm, small-scale rural school Ofsted rated "GOOD" serving children from age 2 to 11.

Residents enjoy a wide range of activities and local amenities, from sports like badminton, pickleball, football, tennis and short mat bowls; to arts, horticulture, dog training and Pilates groups at The Charltons Community Centre in Charlton Adam, while the Reading Room in Charlton Mackrell also provides a hub for meetings and local gatherings.

The villages are also home to historic churches – St Peter & St Paul in Charlton Adam and St Mary in Charlton Mackrell.

LIFE IN CHARLTON ADAM

Historic cottages and farmhouses sit alongside wide, open fields, framing a landscape shaped by centuries of rural tradition. Footpaths directly from The Grove weave through surrounding farmland, allowing residents to enjoy country walks through the ever-changing beauty of the countryside.

THE FOX & HOUNDS

Enhancing village life, the much-loved Fox & Hounds pub, sympathetically restored and reopened as part of the development, creates a warm, welcoming heart of the village for residents and a friendly space to meet within easy walking distance.
