Location

Goldsithney is hugely sought after and for good reason. It's an attractive traditional village featuring a pretty, small stone church, post office, near by popular primary school (St. Hillary) and two village pubs both of which serve local ales and good food. There is a village store which is well stocked, much of which is local produce, in addition to gifts and cards. The village has a friendly, established community and is well placed for access to a huge choice of coastal and countryside walks. The sandy beach at Perranuthnoe is a reasonable walk or short drive away and the nearest major town, Penzance, is approximately 5 miles away and well served with day-to-day facilities as well as a railway station. Within easy reach, there is a choice of stunning beaches including the romantic and secluded Prussia Cove and Marazion, home to St Michael's Mount – the castle on the island!
