Good afternoon,

I understand that the property has been sold; please note that this email does not impact the sale in any way. It is solely for audit and record-keeping purposes.

Please find attached an updated version of your property brochure. We have just refined the measurements, nothing else has been altered.

In line with compliance we need your approval that this is accurate and you are happy with the marketing brochure, alternatively if there are any changes you wish for me to make please let me know.

Kind regards,
