Moments from the shoreline, this part of Mumbles offers a way of living shaped by sea air, coastal walks and a strong sense of community. Independent cafés and restaurants line the village, while nearby beaches and the sweep of Swansea Bay provide an ever changing backdrop. The area is well served by local schools and everyday amenities, with straightforward access into Swansea for wider connections.

Set within a modest and manageable plot, this detached home presents a balanced arrangement of space across two floors, with a natural flow suited to both quiet living and informal gathering. The ground floor unfolds from a central hall into a well proportioned lounge where light settles easily, alongside a kitchen designed for practical use and day to day comfort. Two double bedrooms offer calm and private accommodation, complemented by a bathroom placed for convenience.

Above, the attic level introduces a versatile additional room, equally suited to work, leisure or occasional accommodation, supported by a generous adjoining storage area that enhances the overall functionality of the house.

Outside, the approach is simple and considered. The front garden has been arranged for ease of maintenance while still allowing space to sit and enjoy the surroundings. A side driveway provides ample parking and leads through to the rear, where the garden has been laid to create a clean and usable outdoor space, enclosed for privacy and finished with a detached shed.

Offered with no onward chain, the property allows for a straightforward move, whether as a permanent residence or a coastal retreat.
