Four years ago, the current owners saw the potential in this house. Since then, they've transformed it from top to bottom, creating a stylish family home where they've welcomed their son, entertained friends and made memories they'll never forget.

Now, as their family grows, it's time for someone else to enjoy everything they've created.

With three bedrooms, fantastic open-plan living, a stunning extended kitchen and dining space, a generous rear garden and nothing left to do but move in, this is the kind of home that lets you get on with making memories from day one.
