64 Heathfield Road, Cardiff CF14 3JY

In a sought-after residential suburb of Cardiff and within walking distance of the University Hospital of Wales at Heath is this beautifully-presented, extended and very spacious, three bedroom house of character situated in a popular cul-de-sac just off Whitchurch Road. It has gas central heating from a Baxi gas boiler that is situated in the kitchen/diner, and there are thermostat-controlled radiators virtually throughout. It also benefits from being double-glazed. Features include two separate reception rooms, a superb extended fitted kitchen/diner, a ground floor cloakroom/wc and two bath/shower rooms on the first floor. The property is a mid-terrace house with attractive restored bath stone double-bay, brick and stone-faced front elevations, and with a slate roof having a tile-hung gable fascia. There is an arched entrance porch with the attractive period ceramic wall tiles, and a walled forecourt. At the rear is a delighted garden with a sunny aspect, and a garage with access from a gated rear lane. We understand that the property is Freehold. The Council Tax Band is F and the EPC Rating is C. Natural Resources Wales deems the flood risk as very low. No onward chain.

Nearby Whitchurch Road has become a hub of great eateries offering a wide range of culinary delights, with a selection of restaurants, bistros and cafe bars. There is an excellent range of local shops and supermarkets, junior and senior schools including a popular Welsh-language primary school, sports facilities at Maindy Leisure Centre, beautiful parks that include Roath Park with its famous Lake, Heath Park, and Maitland Park, a local Library, and Post Office, all within walking distance. There is a regular bus service to and from the city centre, and it is only a short drive to the Gabalfa interchange for access on to the main trunk routes into and out of the city.
