Built in the early 1800s this semi-detached cottage is deceptively spacious and feels very private. It benefits from deep granite walls that naturally keep the home cool in summer and warm during the winter months. The south-facing garden has been lovingly transformed by the current owners into a vibrant, well-established outdoor space, rich with a variety of trees, plants, and shrubs. The garden features a generous lawn, vegetable patch, and a greenhouse—ideal for green-fingered enthusiasts. The garden is bordered by beautifully planted edges, offering not only year-round colour and privacy but also a welcoming habitat for local wildlife.

The ground floor offers flexible and well-proportioned living, comprising of two reception rooms, a kitchen, a convenient ground-floor WC, and a utility area that opens out to a rear courtyard, perfect for drying clothes and storage. The cottage benefits from rear access over the neighbouring property. The cottage boasts some lovely features including the original wooden staircase, which contrasts beautifully against the rich blue walls. Upstairs, you'll find three double bedrooms, with the master bedroom an impressive size measuring approximately 14'10 x 12'00. The family bathroom is light and airy, as is the landing, thanks to the addition of a Velux window that floods the area with natural light.

For those with an equestrian interest, the surrounding area is particularly appealing, with access to a network of bridle paths and countryside routes ideal for riding. Nearby equine facilities and stabling options add to its appeal.
