Millwood Street, W10

A truly unique and beautifully presented two-bedroom plus study cottage, offering exceptional living space, two bathrooms and a private balcony on the sought-after Millwood Street, W10

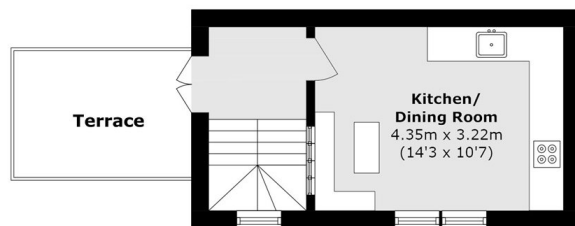

The property is full of character and has been thoughtfully arranged to create a home that feels both distinctive and highly practical. Accommodation comprises two well-proportioned bedrooms, a separate study/home office, two bathrooms and a bright, generous living space ideal for both relaxing and entertaining. A particular highlight is the private balcony, providing valuable outside space and adding to the property's rare, house-like feel. The Cottage offers something genuinely different from the typical London apartment and would be particularly well suited to professional sharers, a couple looking for additional working space, or anyone seeking a characterful home with flexible accommodation. Millwood Street is well positioned for the independent shops, restaurants and cafés of Golborne Road and Portobello Road, with excellent transport connections across London.
