INTRODUCTION

An attractive traditional mid 19th century farmhouse constructed of local stone under a tiled roof with the added benefit of not being listed.

The house is currently arranged as two separate dwellings: a principal three-bedroom residence and a secondary, self-contained two-bedroom cottage, until recently let to a third party. This configuration provides an ideal opportunity for multi-generational living, guest accommodation or supplementary income, with the added potential to reinstate the farmhouse as a single, substantial residence.

The property is further enhanced by a two storey granary and a traditional stone stable block, presenting excellent scope for further development, subject to the necessary consents.

ACCOMMODATION

The principal farmhouse affords well proportioned and practically configured accommodation enjoying dual westerly and easterly aspects. Boasting a wealth of period charm and character features normally reserved for a listed dwelling, the farmhouse also boasts a sun room added in 2002 which takes full advantage of the private rear garden.

To the front elevation, a sizeable entrance hall is currently a reception and office, which leads seamlessly through to the principal sitting room enjoying a feature inglenook fireplace with Bessemer beam, bread oven and inset large woodburner producing plenty of heat. The kitchen and adjoining sun room situated to the rear are well suited to everyday family living and informal entertaining. The first floor presents three generously proportioned double bedrooms, the principal suite benefiting from ensuite facilities. The remaining bedrooms are served by a well-appointed family bathroom.

The adjoining Cottage is equally well considered, offering a substantial sitting room to one side and a generously scaled kitchen/breakfast room to the other, together with a ground floor shower room. To the first floor are two double bedrooms, further complemented by a family bathroom, creating a highly comfortable and self-contained living environment.

GARDEN

The frontage provides a small lawned garden and gravelled entrance drive which leads to the stabling and yard. To the rear is a well-established and thoughtfully maintained garden, featuring a level lawn, mature flower beds and shrub borders, an ornate 40 year old bay tree, a variety of established fruit trees and a small stone garden store. A patio area is conveniently positioned immediately to the rear of the house, offering an ideal space for outdoor entertaining.

OUTBUILDINGS

A two storey Granary adjoining the Cottage with external steps rising to the first floor is currently utilised for general storage and presents considerable scope for conversion, incorporation or alternative use, subject to the necessary consents.

The stable yard comprises a single storey stone barn currently housing four 15ft x 11ft stables and a tack room which previously benefited from planning permission for the creation of ancillary accommodation. In addition are three apex roof timber 12ft x 10ft stables all served by a large concrete courtyard.

LAND

Located only 250m down Woolston Road is a field of 7.73 acres. The gently sloping field is well suited to equestrian and smallholding purposes benefitting from a relatively free draining loam over lower Oolite bedrock and classified Grades 1 and 3 on the ALC. Currently down to permanent pasture, the field enjoys direct road access, a water supply and is bounded by mature hedgerow and stock fenced boundaries. A public footpath runs along the eastern boundary.

The field is available to prospective purchasers of Woolston Farmhouse with a guide price of £125,000
