

OPUS HOUSE

Opus House has been sympathetically built using a perfect blend of Danish brick, oak cladding and glass to create a stunning example of modern architecture. Sitting in a two acre plot on the edge of Penn in the Chilterns the house is off-set by the most beautiful landscaped garden. The house is flanked by a secluded heated outdoor swimming pool.

Mosaic lined heated swimming pool with insulated cover – 14ms long

The drama begins with a bridge to the front door which crosses the stream that wraps around the house and is bordered by Japanese themed rock gardens.

View to the garden from the southern end of the main reception room.

The Bulthaup kitchen with Gaggenau appliances throughout is flooded with light from every angle and provides access and views onto the pool and gardens beyond.

Understated bathrooms with underfloor heating throughout.

Dual-aspect family room leading to the dining room with doors to terrace and gardens beyond.

Stunning master bedroom with fireplace, vaulted ceiling and beautiful views.

A car lift at the rear of the house provides discreet access to the lower ground level garage, while a separate gym offers a dedicated space for fitness and wellbeing.

The lower ground floor is flooded with natural light from a glazed landing above on the first floor of the house.

State of the art cinema acoustic materials and bespoke seating designed by Cineak Holland in conjunction with hardware designed by Visionworks has created a breathtaking Dolby AV entertainment room.

The property further benefits from a versatile self-contained studio with a kitchenette and shower room, ideal for staff accommodation or an independent workspace.

This 21st century architectural masterpiece comes to life at night.

The bridge and front door are seductive at night.

The seduction begins the moment you drive through the front gates.
