Why you'll like it

Situated on Moss Carr Avenue in Long Lee, this three-bedroom semi-detached home offers a practical combination of living space, two bathrooms and a conservatory, complemented by gardens, a driveway and garage.

The lounge features a large front-facing window, creating a welcoming main reception room. A wide archway connects the lounge to the dining room, providing a sociable arrangement for everyday family life and entertaining. Wood-effect flooring continues through both spaces, while glazed doors lead from the dining room into the conservatory.

The separate kitchen is fitted with cream-fronted wall and base units, contrasting worktops and tiled splashbacks. There is space for freestanding appliances, together with a window overlooking the rear and an external door providing garden access. A separate shower room includes a curved shower enclosure, vanity wash basin and WC.

The conservatory adds a useful additional reception space, offering flexibility as a sitting room, playroom or hobby area, with direct access outside.

The property provides three bedrooms, including a principal bedroom with access to an en-suite bathroom fitted with a freestanding roll-top bath and overhead shower, wash basin and WC. The second bedroom gives access to a further space currently used as the home office.

Outside, the front garden is laid mainly to lawn with established planting and gated access to the driveway. The garage provides further parking or storage space. To the rear, a raised paved seating area leads to an extensive decked garden, with established hedging and a further lawned area beyond, providing space for outdoor dining and recreation.

Combining three bedrooms with two bathrooms and versatile reception space, this Long Lee home will appeal to buyers seeking a property with both off-street parking and useful outdoor space. Viewing is recommended to appreciate the accommodation and layout.
