Set within approximately four acres of landscaped gardens and woodland, the property offers a rare combination of architectural presence, space and an enviable lifestyle immersed in nature.

Built in 2008 and beautifully designed to maximise its breathtaking surroundings, the house is flooded with natural light, with extensive glazing and bi-fold doors drawing the outdoors in and ensuring that the ever-changing reservoir views are enjoyed from the principal living spaces and bedrooms. The result is a home that feels both dramatic and deeply connected to its landscape.

The heart of the house is a superb open-plan kitchen, breakfast and family room, a natural hub for everyday living and entertaining, opening seamlessly onto expansive decking and balconies overlooking the water. From morning coffee watching the mist rise over the reservoir to long summer evenings hosting friends around the spa pool and hot tub, this is a home designed for relaxed, sociable living.

The drawing room, open to the eaves with a wood-burning stove and galleried study above, provides a wonderful sense of volume and warmth, while a separate games/TV room offers a more informal space with direct access to the garden. Flexible accommodation includes six bedrooms in total, with an impressive principal suite featuring a dressing room, en suite bathroom and private balcony. An additional bedroom suite above the double garage provides excellent potential for a self-contained annexe, guest accommodation or multigenerational living (subject to the necessary consents).

Weir Water

Outside, the grounds wrap around the house, combining large level lawns – ideal for further leisure amenities such as a swimming pool or tennis court, with areas of natural woodland and striking sandstone rock outcrops. There are multiple seating areas positioned to take full advantage of the views, privacy and changing light throughout the day.

Beyond the boundaries of the property lies the exceptional lifestyle offered by Weir Wood Reservoir itself. On your doorstep are opportunities for sailing, kayaking and paddleboarding, as well as peaceful woodland walks, birdwatching in the nearby nature reserve and quiet moments by the water's edge. Whether seeking adventure, fresh air with family or a tranquil escape from everyday life, the setting provides something for everyone, all year round.

Despite its wonderfully secluded feel, the house is conveniently located for East Grinstead, with its range of shops, restaurants, sports clubs and excellent schools. Rail services provide direct connections to London, while road links offer easy access to Gatwick, the M25 and the wider South East.
