Set along an attractive period terrace close to central Cheltenham, this beautifully presented Grade II listed home combines generous and versatile accommodation with an abundance of character. The principal house offers interconnected sitting and dining rooms, a bright kitchen/breakfast room, three first-floor bedrooms, a stylish bathroom and a substantial basement room. A particularly valuable addition is the detached self-contained annexe, while the established rear garden provides several inviting spaces for relaxing and entertaining.

Entrance Hall: The front door opens into a welcoming entrance hall, where a glazed panel above allows natural light to filter into the space. Decorative wall mouldings and wood-effect flooring complement the period character of the property.

Sitting Room: Positioned towards the front of the house, the sitting room is a beautifully proportioned reception space with a sash-style window bringing in plenty of natural light. Decorative cornicing, a ceiling rose and wood-effect flooring enhance its character, while a broad arched opening creates a natural connection with the adjoining dining room.

Dining Room: Forming the sociable centre of the home, the generous dining room provides ample space for a large dining table and additional furniture. An attractive period-style fireplace with a decorative surround creates an elegant focal point, complemented by fitted cabinetry, a ceiling rose and cornicing. The room connects with both the sitting room and kitchen, while the staircase rises to the first floor.

Kitchen/Breakfast Room: Extending across the rear of the property, the kitchen/breakfast room is bright and beautifully presented. An extensive range of white shaker-style cabinetry is paired with light work surfaces, while a central island provides further preparation space and informal seating.

Integrated appliances include an oven and microwave, with a hob and extractor positioned along the adjoining run. A separate sink area sits beneath a window, while decorative glazed cabinets offer additional storage and display space. A roof lantern floods the room with natural light and bi-folding doors open directly onto the rear terrace, creating an excellent connection between the house and garden.

Basement Room / Fourth Bedroom: Stairs descend to a substantial basement room currently arranged as a double bedroom. A window provides natural light, while recessed lighting, a feature radiator and generous proportions make this a highly adaptable addition. The space could suit a variety of uses, including a guest room, home office, cinema room or further reception area.

First-Floor Landing: The staircase rises to the first-floor landing, providing access to all three bedrooms and the family bathroom.

Bedroom One: A well-proportioned double bedroom featuring a sash-style window, decorative cornicing and built-in wardrobes offering excellent storage. The room comfortably accommodates a large bed alongside further freestanding furniture.

Bedroom Two: A further bright double bedroom with a sash-style window and a feature radiator. An extensive range of fitted wardrobes provides particularly useful storage, while decorative cornicing adds to the room's character.

Bedroom Three: A bright single bedroom with a sash-style window and decorative cornicing. The room would work equally well as a child's bedroom, nursery, study or dressing room and also benefits from fitted storage.

Bathroom: The spacious first-floor bathroom is beautifully appointed with a freestanding roll-top bath, separate glazed shower enclosure, pedestal wash hand basin and WC. Marble-effect tiling, fitted storage and a traditional-style radiator complete the room, while a sash-style window provides natural light.

Garden: Bi-folding doors open from the kitchen onto a paved terrace, creating an inviting space for outdoor dining and entertaining. Beyond the terrace, the established garden incorporates a lawn, stepping-stone paths, mature trees and planted borders that provide greenery and a pleasant sense of privacy.

Several distinct seating areas allow different parts of the garden to be enjoyed throughout the day, while a pathway leads through towards the detached annexe.

Detached Annexe: Positioned separately from the principal house, the annexe provides highly versatile self-contained accommodation with its own entrance. The open-plan space incorporates living and dining areas alongside a fitted kitchen equipped with storage units, work surfaces, an oven, hob and sink.

Multiple windows and a rooflight introduce plenty of natural light, while glazed doors open onto a small private courtyard. A separate shower room is fitted with a glazed shower enclosure, wash hand basin and WC. This valuable additional accommodation could be ideal for visiting family, multigenerational living or working from home, subject to any necessary consents and regulations.

Parking: Parking is available on the road through a residents' permit scheme. Prospective purchasers should confirm eligibility, availability and applicable charges with the local authority.
