SITUATION

Formerly known as Frazier's Yard, being previously the home to William Frazier Boatbuilders, Little Meva is today a select development of ten fine coastal homes in an enviable non-public position just off the inner harbour.

The historic village of Mevagissey - still a working fishing village - is renowned for its picturesque myriad of narrow streets around the inner and outer harbours where there are numerous public houses, cafes, restaurants, gift shops and everyday shops.

The area is renowned for its attractive coastline and walks along the South West Coastal Footpath as well as beaches at Pentewan, Porthpean, Gorran Haven, Vault and Caerhayes.

The market town of St Austell is about 5 miles to the north and offers a more comprehensive range of shopping, schooling and social facilities and amenities, as well as a mainline railway station on the London Paddington line. The cathedral city of Truro, being the retail and commercial centre of Cornwall, is about 17 miles to the east; Newquay Airport is about 20 miles.

On the first floor, approached over stairs from the hall, is a fine and spacious open-plan Living, Kitchen and Dining Room with sliding doors to an Outside Covered Balcony with space for seating and fully enjoying the appealing view over the adjacent pebble beach with rocky inlets, the outer walled harbour and sea beyond.
