

Treoda & Homeland , Goonhavern, TR4 9NT
Asking Price £707,500

A versatile detached bungalow with self-contained annexe, set in superb mature gardens of approx. two-thirds of an acre, in a peaceful rural hamlet close to Goonhavern within a conservation area.

The Property

Tre-Oda and Homeland together offer an exceptional combination of space, flexibility and setting that is increasingly difficult to find. Extending to approximately 1,606 sq ft (149.2 sq m) in total across the two linked but independently configured dwellings, the property provides up to five bedrooms, two kitchens, three reception rooms and two shower rooms, along with a detached garage and extensive gardens to the rear. The generous number of rooms and the dual-dwelling layout lend themselves to a wide range of configurations — the accommodation can readily be adapted to suit the needs of incoming buyers, whether as spacious family living, home office provision, or additional letting income.

The accommodation is arranged as two self-contained units — Tre-Oda and Homeland — each with its own entrance, kitchen and living space, held under two separate freehold titles with two separate council tax bands. This dual configuration gives incoming buyers genuine flexibility: the property could continue as two independent dwellings, serve as a principal residence with annexed accommodation for family members, provide a home-and-income opportunity with one side available for holiday letting, or be reconfigured as a single substantial residence — subject to any necessary consents.

The property occupies a generous plot in the quiet hamlet of Carnkief, a short distance from the village of Goonhavern with its local amenities, and within easy reach of Truro (approximately 8 miles), the A30 corridor, and the north Cornwall coast. The gardens are a particular feature: sweeping lawns bordered by mature trees and established planting create a private, tranquil setting that belies the property's accessibility. At approximately two-thirds of an acre, the grounds also represent a significant opportunity in their own right — offering scope for extension of the existing buildings, conversion of outbuildings, or potentially further development subject to the necessary planning and conservation area consents.

Having been in the same family ownership since Tre-Oda was first built in 1964, with Homeland added in the early 1990s, this is a genuinely rare opportunity. The property is habitable and ready to occupy, but equally offers a blank canvas for a buyer with vision to reconfigure, extend or develop to create something exceptional.

TRE-ODA comprises:

Gardens — The gardens are a standout feature of this property. To the rear, approximately two-thirds of an acre of beautifully mature grounds extend away from the house, comprising sweeping lawns interspersed with established trees, flowering shrubs, camellias and ornamental planting. The gardens enjoy a high degree of privacy, screened by mature boundary planting, and offer a sense of space and seclusion that is increasingly rare. There is a greenhouse and various outbuildings within the garden. To the front and sides, the property is approached via a gravelled driveway with parking for several vehicles, bordered by hedging and further planting including conifers and flowering shrubs.

Garage (16'3" x 9'9" | 4.96m x 2.96m) — Detached single garage with up-and-over door. Situated to the side of the property with separate access.

Tre-Oda and Homeland occupy a peaceful position on a quiet country lane in the hamlet of Carnkief, a short distance south of the village of Goonhavern. Goonhavern provides day-to-day amenities including a village shop, post office, pub and primary school, while the cathedral city of Truro — with its comprehensive range of shopping, dining, cultural and educational facilities — lies approximately 8 miles to the south. The property is well placed for access to the A30 dual carriageway, connecting to the wider road network and making Truro, Newquay and Redruth/Camborne all readily accessible. The north Cornwall coast, including the popular beaches at Perranporth and Holywell Bay, is within a few miles.

Services and Practical Information

Tenure: Freehold. The property is held under two separate freehold titles.

Council Tax: The property is registered under two separate council tax bands — Band D (Tre-Oda) and Band A (Homeland). Prospective purchasers should make their own enquiries with Cornwall Council regarding any implications for their intended use.

Services: Mains water and electricity. Private drainage via septic tank. Heating is provided by a combination of night storage heaters, oil-fired heating and electric room heaters.

Construction: Traditional cavity block construction (1964), with Homeland added in the early 1990s.

Conservation Area: The property lies within a conservation area. Prospective purchasers should be aware that permitted development rights may be more restricted than for properties outside a conservation area, and that conservation area consent may be required for certain works. Trees within the grounds are also subject to the conservation area provisions regarding notice of works.

Local Authority: Cornwall Council.

Agents' Note

The property's existing configuration as two self-contained dwellings under separate titles provides a range of options for incoming buyers. Those wishing to occupy as a single residence may wish to explore merging the council tax bands through the Valuation Office Agency. Those wishing to retain the dual configuration — whether for family use, letting or other purposes — benefit from the existing separate classifications. Professional advice should be sought regarding any intended changes to the property's use or configuration.
