Bwlch Yr Awel & Bwlch Yr Awel Cottage , Pantglas, LL51 9DJ

Nestled in the charming area of Pantglas, this impressive detached house, built in 1830, offers a unique blend of historical character and modern potential. The property comprises a four bedroom cottage with two reception rooms plus an additional two bedroom holiday let property to the side.

Set within 1.5 acres of picturesque grounds, the property features a large barn building at the rear, which presents exciting possibilities for conversion or development, subject to the requisite planning consents. Additionally, there is the option to purchase a further 1.5 acres of land at the front of the house, providing ample outdoor space for various uses. There was also former planning permission granted for a cottage on the land to the side of the house, adding to the potential for future development.

For those with equestrian interests, the derelict outbuildings at the rear could be transformed into stables, further enhancing the appeal of this remarkable property. The ample parking to the side of the house ensures convenience for residents and guests alike.

This residence not only offers a splendid living environment but also the potential for a holiday let, making it a versatile choice for buyers seeking both comfort and investment opportunities. With its rich history and expansive grounds, this property in Pantglas is a rare find that promises to cater to a variety of lifestyles and aspirations.

EXTERNAL AREAS

The property is accessed via a private driveway to the side of the house and leads to a courtyard area with open storage shed/garage and a log store.

This then leads to a larger stone workshop (7.77m x 7.061m), that has light and power connected. The workshop is double height and ripe for redevelopment, subject to the necessary statutory consents.

From the workshop there is a private garden area closer to the house, with stone and gravel patio areas, leading to a further store/boiler room (4.82m x 3.426m) which sits between the main house and the holiday let. The space is currently utilised as a store room and houses the Worcester boiler that serves both properties, but again could be incorporated into the house or the holiday let as an additional room.

Beyond the immediate gardens sits further gardens, extending approximately to a further acre, including a polytunnel, a range of mature fruit and other trees and mature shrubs. There is separate vehicular access to the garden at the side of the house; and we understand from the vendor that a part of the land fronting the road once had planning permission for a further house. The plans have been included on the listing for reference, but permission has lapsed.

There is a further plot of agricultural/grazing land over the road from the property, which measures to approximately 1.5 acres which is available for sale via separate negotiation.

On main bus route, school bus collects from lane opposite and easy access to Bangor including train station and A55 transport links.

SERVICES

Mains electricity, water and drainage. Oil fired central heating; one boiler serves both the house and the cottage but they are separately metered and have separate thermostats. LPG serves the kitchen hob only.
