A residence of rare distinction, 2 Sandath House exudes grandeur, light and timeless elegance—a remarkable ground-floor apartment within an imposing former mansion dating from circa 1870. Set on Fell Lane in the New Streets Conservation Area, this is a property that commands attention from the moment you approach its sweeping driveway and glimpse the stately façade.

Spanning approximately 2,300 sqft, the apartment impresses with soaring 11-foot ceilings, tall sash windows, and a wealth of ornate plasterwork, including intricate coving and ceiling roses that speak to its period heritage. The sense of scale and proportion throughout is exceptional—each room bathed in natural light and imbued with a feeling of space and refinement.

The accommodation flows from a grand central hallway into a magnificent living room and dining room, a generous dining kitchen, and three substantial bedrooms, two of which enjoy en-suite shower rooms. A house bathroom and utility/laundry room complete the layout, offering both practicality and comfort.

Externally, the property continues to impress with lawns framed by mature trees and shrubs, creating a tranquil, private setting. To the rear, there are two off-road parking spaces and two large single garages—each with automatic doors, lighting and power—adding convenience to the sense of prestige.

While beautifully maintained, 2 Sandath House offers exciting scope for sympathetic modernisation or bespoke interior enhancement, allowing a discerning buyer to elevate its already grand proportions into a truly opulent home. With secondary glazing and mains gas central heating via a pressurised condensing system, the essentials are in place for comfortable living.

This is a one-off property of genuine stature—graceful, spacious and steeped in character—offering the rare opportunity to own a piece of Penrith’s architectural heritage and shape it into a residence of enduring luxury.
