27 Knightswell Road, Cardiff CF5 4RT

In an elevated position in a popular residential area on the west side of the city is this delightful, extended Freehold semi-detached house that requires some updating but offers excellent family-size accommodation. It has gas central heating from a combi boiler in the kitchen, and there are thermostat-controlled radiators virtually throughout. The property is also double-glazed. Features include a spacious pleasant front room that opens into an extended living room, an open-plan kitchen/diner, and three bedrooms of good size, with two having wall-to-wall built-in wardrobes. The property is the right-hand one of a pair of semi-detached houses, built around 1960, and constructed with mainly painted cement-rendered elevations and with some facing brickwork, beneath a pitched concrete tiled roof. To the front, there is a crazy paved garden with established shrubbery, and a beautiful magnolia tree. A concrete driveway provides off-road parking, and wrought iron gates open to the further side driveway, leading to the garage at the rear. There is a garden of good size at the rear with a garden pond. The Council Tax Band is E. The EPC rating is D. Natural Resources Wales considers the flood risk in the area as 'very low'.

Culverhouse Cross is a residential area approximately six miles from the city centre but is known primarily for its excellent and wide-ranging commercial and retail facilities. It serves as a significant shopping destination with various retail parks and stores, that include Marks & Spencer, B&Q, Tesco Extra and Boots attracting visitors from the surrounding areas. The area is strategically located at the junction of several major roads, making it easily accessible for commuting into Cardiff, Penarth and Barry, or for access on to the main trunk roads into and out of the city. The M4 is only a short drive away via the A4232 link road.
