Hendre Clochydd Hall

Barmouth | | LL42 1RR

Where to begin to describe this handsome period coastal residence with 1.95 acres and uninterrupted far reaching coastal views? Beautifully refurbished, blending modern elegance with cherished historic charm, the well proportioned rooms maximise space and light while highlighting the original architectural elements and period features.

The accommodation is truly expansive, having three reception rooms that are generous in size and features, two with traditional inglenook stone fireplaces (not in use). High ceilings and deep windows both enhance the space and flood with natural light.

A large dining kitchen is heart of the home and a sweeping staircase dominates the hallway.

The first floor features four generously sized double or king sized bedrooms, each enjoying spectacular coastal views. Two with ensuite bathrooms, perfect for family members or guests. There is a first floor family bathroom with freestanding bath plus a ground floor wet room.

The attic level presents an excellent opportunity for further accommodation (subject to planning), dormer windows provide natural light to the two large rooms accessed by a wooden staircase. A set of basement rooms provide storage and further opportunities and an attached workshop and stone built store can be found to the rear of the house.

With an outstanding exterior, a long private driveway leads to parking for up to 8 cars and to a detached part stone outbuilding used as a garage/store room. To the other side are beautifully maintained gardens (including a small walled garden) lawned and terraced, packed with shrubs plants and fruit trees, offering privacy and views. As if all of this wasn't enough there, the field in front is included too.

With bustling Barmouth on the doorstep and sandy beaches opposite, the hall offers a delightful lifestyle for all occasions; relocation for a scenic coastal lifestyle, a private holiday home or holiday rental opportunity.

Additional Information

The property is freehold and connected to mains electricity, water. Drainage to to septic tank located on neighbours property and shared with the neighbour. This is emptied every year with a 50/50 split of the cost.

The property is fully double glazed (new windows and external doors installed) with oil fired central heating (new boiler installed 3 years ago).

The property is classed as a link-detached. There is a small private residence to the left side whose wall touches the corner of the reception hall/boot room. This has its own parking and garden to the rear and does not impact on the privacy of the hall. There are no shared walls between the two properties.

We are informed the property is currently classified as 'mixed use' (C1) as has been used as a small scale B&B. The area classified as the owner's accommodation has a council tax band rating of 'B' and the rest of the property is subject to non-domestic rates which are currently fully rebated.

Llanaber and Barmouth

Llanaber is a coastal village just 0.7 miles north of Barmouth. It has the Irish Sea and Cardigan Bay to the west and the Rhinog mountains to the East. The Welsh Coastal Path is just minutes walk from the property as is a halt for the Cambrian Coastal Railway.

Barmouth is known as the town where 'the Mountains meet the Sea' but offers much more than that. It is a thriving seaside town with breathtaking views on the north west coast of Wales looking out onto Cardigan Bay on the edge of the Snowdonia National Park. There is a bustling town centre with a range of shops and supermarkets and great places to eat and relax, including AA  rosettes restaurant (and in Michelin guide) along with other great eateries.

For lovers of the outdoors it offers walking, cycling, paddle-boarding, kayaking, and of course swimming in the sea from the beautiful golden sand beach. The train station in the middle of the town provides easy links up and down the coastal line or regular trains directly through to Birmingham and beyond.
