The Street, Ardleigh

A rare opportunity to acquire a beautifully historic home, thoughtfully updated for modern living. Originally formed from a row of Grade II listed Tudor cottages and dating back nearly 500 years, this exceptional 5/6 bedroom residence sits in the heart of Ardleigh and offers a unique combination of period character and contemporary style.

Set within a generous plot of over one-third of an acre (subject to survey), this timber-framed home is rich in character, with exposed beams, brickwork, an impressive inglenook fireplace and multiple log burners creating a warm and inviting atmosphere throughout.

The ground floor offers a series of beautifully connected reception spaces with excellent ceiling heights, including a grand dining room, elegant drawing room, cosy snug and a well-proportioned study. Practicality is equally well considered, with a boot room, large utility room and ample storage. A stunning newly installed kitchen, stylishly designed and well-appointed, creates a natural hub of the home.

The adaptable layout offers exceptional flexibility, with spaces that can be arranged to meet a wide range of requirements, including the potential for up to six bedrooms. On the first floor, there are four bedrooms, three of which are spacious doubles, along with a dressing room off the principal bedroom, previously used as an additional bedroom. A family bathroom, and a separate shower room.

A particularly appealing feature is the potential annexe arrangement on the ground floor, comprising a bedroom, kitchen area and shower room, ideal for multi-generational living, guests or independent accommodation.

Approached via a gated driveway, the property opens into a charming rear courtyard offering secure parking for multiple vehicles, alongside a double garage, cart lodge, wood store and kennel. Beyond, the fully enclosed, west-facing rear garden enjoys an abundance of sunlight, with a large lawn and raised decking area.
