IF YOU LIVED HERE...

Step through the front door and you'll find a wonderfully spacious open plan reception room stretching the full depth of the house. A bay window at the front brings in plenty of natural light, while warm timber flooring and the generous proportions create flexible areas for relaxing and dining. Stairs rise from the centre of the room, with useful built-in storage tucked neatly beneath.

To the rear, the extended kitchen is filled with natural light thanks to overhead rooflights and glazed doors opening onto the garden. The hand built wooden cabinetry gives the room plenty of character and offers an ideal opportunity for anyone keen to personalise the finish with a painted colour scheme. There's ample workspace, room for a breakfast table or island, and an easy connection to the garden, making it a sociable space for everyday life and entertaining alike.

Upstairs, both bedrooms are comfortable doubles, each with soft neutral décor and pleasant natural light. The family bathroom sits centrally between the two rooms and is finished with a white suite, including a bath with overhead shower. There's also useful eaves storage on the first floor. Outside, the private rear garden provides a lovely extension of the living space, with a paved terrace leading to established planting and mature trees at the far end.

WHAT ELSE?

- Alexandra Palace and Wood Green stations are both within easy reach, giving you Piccadilly line and National Rail connections across London, while the shops, cafés and restaurants along Wood Green High Road are close by.
- Alexandra Park is nearby for wide open green space, woodland walks and panoramic views across the capital, with Alexandra Palace hosting year-round concerts, exhibitions and events.
- Local favourites including Forks & Green, Kervan Sofrasi and Grounds Café are all within walking distance, while families are well served by several highly regarded schools nearby, including Noel Park Primary School and Alexandra Primary School, both rated Good by Ofsted.
