An opportunity to acquire a picturesque parcel of land with road frontage. Planning consent for a detached timber single storey agricultural barn of 41.4 square metres. The land is currently fenced as 2 areas of meadow with woodland, each with separate 5 bar gate. The land slopes gently towards the eastern boundary and there is extensive views over the adjoining countryside. There is part post and wire fencing. In all, the land extends to about 6.93 acres (2.8 hectares).

Location

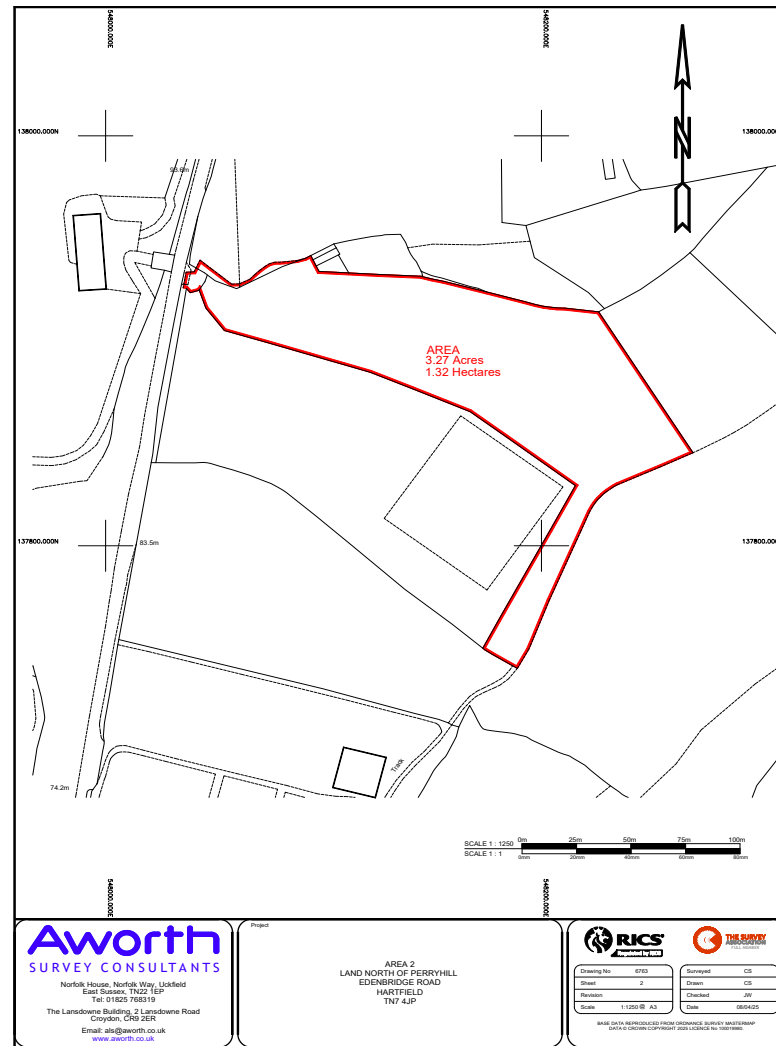

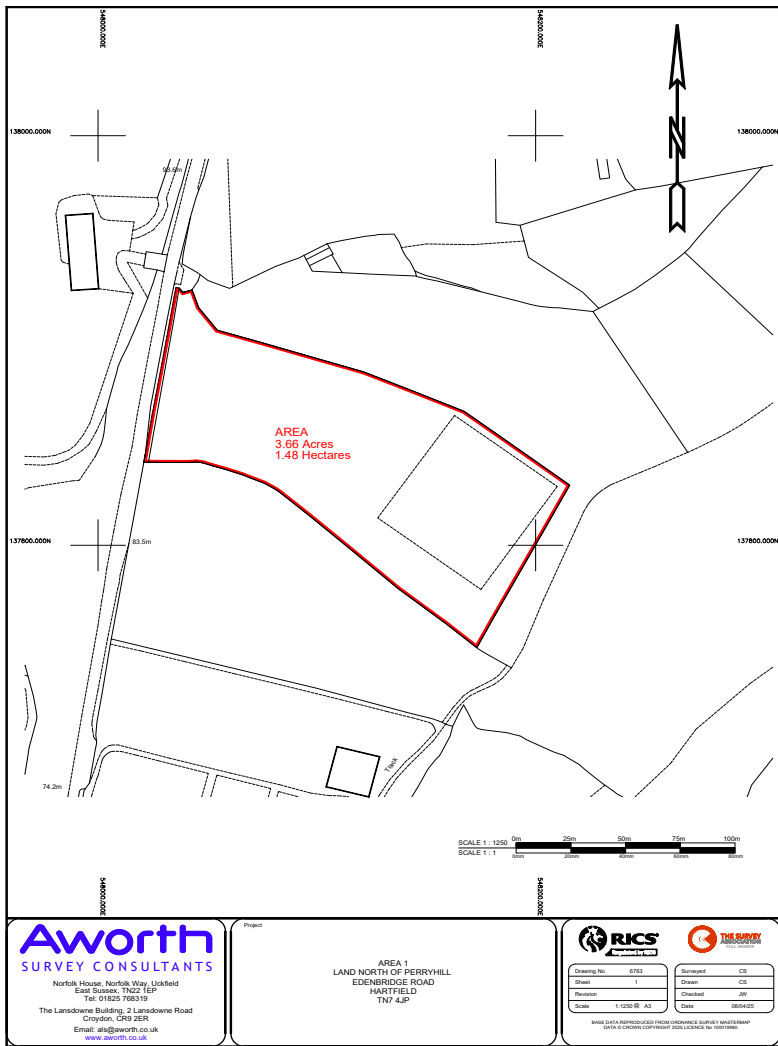

This parcel of land is situated to the north of the pretty and historic village of Hartfield. The location is designated as an Area of Outstanding Natural Beauty (AONB) in the High Weald. Hartfield village is on the edge of the Ashdown Forest, renowned as the home of A.A. Milne, author of the Winnie the Pooh books, and the site of the famous “Poohsticks Bridge.” The village offers a range of local amenities, including a primary school, doctor’s surgery, church, and several nearby inns. The major market town of East Grinstead, with its commercial centre and mainline station, is about seven miles distant.
