Tucked away in a secluded and sheltered rural valley, This home offers a rare opportunity to enjoy a truly peaceful countryside lifestyle while remaining just 6.5 miles from the historic market town of Ruthin. Approached via a quiet country lane, this enchanting former farmhouse provides privacy, space and a deep sense of escape from everyday life. The heart of the home is the beautifully converted barn, now an impressive open-plan kitchen, dining and living space filled with natural light and opening into a large conservatory. This is a home designed for relaxed living — from slow mornings overlooking the gardens to evenings spent gathered around the warmth of wood-burning stoves. Original farmhouse features add character and charm throughout, including exposed beams and an inglenook fireplace, while the flexible layout allows the accommodation to adapt easily to modern family life. A cosy snug offers a peaceful retreat, and a studio area with its own bedroom and shower room creates an ideal private wing. The layout lends itself particularly well to being divided into two independent living areas, making it well suited to multi-generational living or two families wishing to live together while retaining their own space. Practicality is thoughtfully balanced with charm, with a boarded loft benefitting from electric, providing excellent additional storage or future potential (subject to any necessary consents). Outside, informal gardens extend to approximately 0.5 acre, creating a tranquil and private setting with a cottage-style feel. A nearby 0.5 acre paddock offers further lifestyle possibilities, whether for keeping animals, outdoor activities or simply enjoying open space. Ample gated parking and a selection of outbuildings complete the setting. The Sun is a home to be lived in and enjoyed — offering character, versatility and a wonderfully calm rural atmosphere in a picturesque North Wales valley.
