LOCATION:

Ideally situated in the heart of Coldstream, one of the first border towns in Scotland, this location offers an appealing blend of convenience, character and beautiful surrounding countryside. Steeped in history, Coldstream was once home to the Earls of Home, with the historic Hirsell estate providing a wonderful destination just a short distance from the town. The Hirsell is particularly popular for its scenic walks, abundant wildlife and peaceful countryside, as well as its welcoming cafe and collection of independent craft shops. The River Tweed also forms an important part of the local landscape, renowned for its salmon fishing and providing a picturesque setting for enjoying the outdoors. Coldstream itself provides an excellent range of everyday amenities, including local shops, cafes, traditional pubs, a community centre, doctors' and dentists' surgeries and other useful services. Its position close to the Scottish Borders also makes it an attractive base for exploring the wider area, with the Cheviot Hills and surrounding countryside offering plentiful opportunities for walking, cycling and outdoor pursuits. For those requiring further amenities and transport connections, the historic market town of Kelso is approximately 9 miles away, while Berwick-upon-Tweed and its East Coast railway station are approximately 15 miles away, providing convenient links further afield. Together, these nearby towns complement Coldstream's quieter pace of life while ensuring that a broader range of shopping, leisure and transport facilities is within easy reach.
