WHAT'S GREAT?

Roelof Jan is a charming Dutch barge with a distinctive character, combining traditional styling with a warm, comfortable interior and generous outdoor space. With approximately 278 sq ft (25.8 sq m) of accommodation, she offers an appealing and versatile layout for anyone looking for a compact floating home, weekend retreat or characterful boat for life afloat.

The interior has a wonderfully cosy feel, with extensive natural woodwork, a timber-clad ceiling and plenty of windows providing attractive views and an abundance of natural light. The main kitchen/living area provides a welcoming central living space with seating, dining and kitchen facilities. A wood-burning stove adds to the homely atmosphere and makes the saloon particularly inviting.

Forward accommodation includes a bedroom offering useful sleeping accommodation or flexible storage space. A separate bathroom/WC completes the interior arrangement.

Outside, Roelof Jan benefits from both a front deck and a steering deck, giving plenty of opportunity to enjoy the surroundings, relax outdoors or entertain. Her traditional exterior lines, attractive detailing and distinctive wheelhouse/steering area give her considerable character, while the photographs show a boat that has been arranged with a very personal and homely touch.

The combination of traditional Dutch-barge character, cosy accommodation, practical living space and inviting outdoor decks makes Roelof Jan an interesting and unusual proposition for someone looking for a boat with personality rather than a conventional modern cruiser.
