PROPERTY SUMMARY

A truly impressive ground-floor garden conversion occupying the entirety of this imposing period residence. Beautifully presented throughout, this exceptional two-double-bedroom home combines elegant period architecture, impressive ceiling heights, generous proportions and private outdoor space. With its own rear garden, share of the freehold and enviable position close to sought-after amenities, the property offers a rare opportunity to acquire a characterful North London home blending traditional charm with contemporary convenience.

The accommodation features a bright and spacious front reception room with original sash windows and high ceilings, complemented by two generous double bedrooms, a modern bathroom and fitted kitchen. Generous storage areas further enhance practicality, while direct access to a private rear garden offers an excellent opportunity for outdoor living and entertaining.

Ideally positioned for local amenities, the property is within easy walking distance of award-winning Myddleton Road, renowned for its independent cafés, restaurants and vibrant neighbourhood atmosphere. Excellent transport connections include Bowes Park Railway Station, offering Great Northern services towards Moorgate, together with Bounds Green and Wood Green Underground Stations. The Piccadilly Line provides access towards central London, while local bus routes further enhance connectivity.

Combining generous accommodation, private garden access and attractive period features, the property offers an appealing opportunity for those seeking a well-connected London home.

Being offered on a chain-free basis with a 900 years lease and share of the freehold, this beautifully presented period conversion represents an excellent opportunity to acquire a distinctive garden home in a highly desirable North London location, combining character, comfort and convenience.
