Woodlands is a unique and substantial four-bedroom semi-detached residence dating back to the 1920s, enjoying a particularly generous plot within one of Calderdale's most sought-after residential areas. This characterful home has been designed to take full advantage of the impressive woodland views to the rear, creating a wonderfully peaceful and private setting whilst remaining conveniently placed for Calderdale Royal Hospital and Halifax town centre.

The spacious and versatile accommodation includes two generous reception rooms, a conservatory and dining kitchen, providing excellent living space for both family life and entertaining. To the first floor are three well-proportioned double bedrooms together with a fourth single bedroom, currently utilised as a home office. Whilst the property has been well maintained, some areas would now benefit from updating and modernisation, offering an excellent opportunity for the next owner to enhance the accommodation to their own individual taste.

Externally, Woodlands really comes into its own. Extensive tiered gardens incorporate artificial lawned areas, traditional lawns, established planting and mature shrubbery, providing a superb outdoor environment with a high degree of privacy and an attractive woodland backdrop. The property also benefits from two garages, with a single garage positioned on the front driveway and a larger double garage to the rear, accessed from Copley.

Of particular interest is the additional potential offered by the generous plot. Neighbouring properties have previously sold sections of their gardens as building plots and the current owner has explored a similar opportunity, with indicative plans having been prepared for the construction of a detached dwelling. No formal planning application has been submitted and prospective purchasers should make their own enquiries regarding any future development potential.
