£1,395,000

Lantern is a statement home. Architecturally distinctive, immaculately finished and designed to make the most of its outstanding position, this is a property that genuinely sets itself apart.

The split-level layout is smart and deliberate — principal rooms are flooded with natural light and oriented to capture sweeping views across the Wharfe Valley towards Beamsley Beacon. At its heart, a showstopping reception hall with bespoke bar opens directly to a sleek, contemporary kitchen featuring a large island, premium appliances and direct access to a south-facing courtyard garden. A private boot room/utility entrance along with a w/c completes the ground floor practicalities.

Below, the lower ground floor delivers serious living space — a flexible reception room, dedicated study and a generous sitting room with wood-burning stove and full-width patio doors that frame the view and bring the outside in.

Upstairs, the master suite is genuinely impressive: built-in wardrobes, a private terrace with outdoor heating, dressing room and en-suite. Four further double bedrooms — three on the first floor, one on the second — are all well-proportioned, with two offering en-suite facilities and a house bathroom serving the rest.

Outside, a double garage, landscaped courtyard, timber garden room, rear lawn with elevated views across open fields to the River Wharfe complete the picture.

Set in Addingham, three miles west of Ilkley, with village amenities, a primary school and The Dales Way on the doorstep — this is Wharfedale living at its finest.
