ACCOMMODATION

Hectors Warehouse is believed to have been a warehouse for the historic Blandford brewery and was converted into a residence in 2011. The property boasts sizable accommodation set over four floors and weaves character charm with modern living. Upon entry there is a generous hall laid with stone floor with access to a double bedroom currently arranged as a gym with an ensuite cloakroom (which could be arranged as a shower room). Completing the hall is a cloak room and external door to a small courtyard with access to the front and rear laid with artificial grass and a canopy, ideal for outside dining. There is scope for a small annexe to be created from the hallway (subject to relevant permissions). The first floor is arranged with two generous double bedrooms which have many character features including exposed brick work, metal pillars and wooden beams. The family bathroom is fully tiled with natural stone tiling comprising of a walk in shower, bath, basin and w.c. The second floor is a wonderful space enjoying a triple aspect flooding the area with light, boasting wooden flooring, exposed, brickwork, metal pillars and wooden beams. The kitchen is situated to the rear comprising of a comprehensive range of high gloss wall and base units set with a wooden counter top and an informal breakfast bar. The room flows to a dining sitting room with a feature wood burner as a focal point and a special window seat to the front aspect which is ideal to watch the world go by. The top floor is a particular feature with a bedroom that houses a wooden wheel and loading doors, preserved to reflect the history of the building. The room would accommodate a double bed and has vaulted ceiling. A gallery landing leads from the bedroom looking down on the kitchen dining area to an ensuite comprising of a large walk in shower, basin and w.c.

OUTSIDE

Situated a short walk from the dwelling is a detached double garage benefitting from light and power.
