Are you looking for a period home on one of Pontefract's most sought-after streets?

Situated within a traditional conservation area, this charming four-bedroom Victorian-style mid-terrace offers an abundance of space, character and original features throughout. Full of charm and style, this is a home that will appeal to buyers looking for something a little special.

Internally, the property boasts two spacious reception rooms and generous bedroom accommodation, making it an ideal choice for growing families or buyers wanting versatile living space.

While the property would benefit from some modernisation, the layout, proportions and wealth of traditional features create a rare opportunity for someone with vision to make this beautiful home their own. Properties with this much character and potential, especially at such an attractive asking price for the street, are always in high demand.

Externally, the home benefits from both a front and rear garden. Parking is available on the street via permit parking, and spaces are typically readily available.

Perfectly positioned within walking distance of Pontefract town centre, local amenities, schools, train stations, and Pontefract Racecourse, the location is ideal for commuters, families and first-time buyers alike. Offering excellent value within a first-time buyer price bracket, yet with the size and flexibility to suit a larger family, this home truly caters to a wide range of purchasers.

Offered for sale with no onward chain, early viewing is highly recommended.
