OWNER'S PERSPECTIVE

‘We bought Daleside from new and have spent four very happy years here making it into our home. Windmill Lane is a friendly road – a community really - where neighbours all look out for one another but never interfere. We have explored Derbyshire from here and found a number of favourite pubs that we can either walk or drive to and there’s even a farm shop at the end of the road. But most of all it’s just a very nice place to live. What more could you want’
