The Property:

Situated in the centre of the village, 13 Fore Street is a well-presented period property offering generous and versatile accommodation arranged over four floors. While the property was refurbished some time ago, it remains in good condition and blends original features with contemporary touches throughout.

The entrance is set behind painted wrought iron railings, with a stable-style front door opening into a welcoming hallway laid with oak flooring and recessed lighting. The open-plan ground floor reception space features a sash window to the front, solid oak flooring, and a slate fireplace housing a wood-burning stove—creating a warm and characterful focal point.

The kitchen is open to the living area and fitted with a range of modern units, wood-effect worktops, and integrated appliances including an electric oven, hob, fridge, and dishwasher. A decorative fireplace adds further charm, while stairs lead both to the lower ground floor and up to the conservatory.

The conservatory/utility space enjoys exposed stonework, slate sills, and a glazed roof, with plumbing for a washing machine and space for further appliances.

On the lower ground floor, a spacious family room offers flexibility—ideal as a second reception space, home office, or fourth bedroom. It includes laminate flooring, a built-in cupboard housing the hot water cylinder and electric boiler, and an adjacent shower room with WC, basin, and double shower enclosure.

The first floor hosts two double bedrooms, one to the front with views across the village and surrounding countryside, and another overlooking the rear. These rooms are served by a family bathroom with a bath and shower over, pedestal basin, WC, and chrome heated towel rail.

The top floor is dedicated to the principal bedroom—an airy double room with sloped ceilings, under-eaves storage, and a large Velux window offering lovely views. An en-suite shower room includes a tiled corner shower, pedestal basin, WC with Sanipro unit, and heated towel rail.

The property is finished with recessed lighting and wood-effect flooring, and retains period character throughout.

Please note, there is no garden or allocated parking, but ample on-street parking is available nearby, along with a free village car park within walking distance. The village also offers a range of green spaces nearby for outdoor enjoyment.
