Introduction

Built in the 1960s Longford offers timeless design, generous proportions and quality finish throughout. The accommodation itself consists of the following: entrance hallway, study, cloakroom, sitting/dining room, kitchen/breakfast room, second entrance, utility, integrated garage, three bedrooms and family bathroom.

Property Description

Entry begins into a light and bright entrance hallway. The quality of this home starts to reveal itself here, in the stunning, oak parquet flooring that echoes throughout the ground floor (in all rooms other than the kitchen). A staircase is on show here with open treads, oak boards and a galleried landing section with contemporary styled aluminium hand rails.

To the left of the hallway (that could be used as a separate wing for 'working from home' purposes/ground-floor bedroom and wash facilities) is a study and cloakroom. The study benefits from having an impressive bay window where the current vendors have placed a desk to enjoy the mature and green views of the front garden. The room is equipped with bespoke shelving, desk and drawers that balances the honey toned colours of the parquet flooring below. The cloakroom next door has been attractively tiled and consists of a WC, hand-basin, radiator, in-built storage cupboard and window out.

Back into the entrance hall and to the right is a generously sized and striking sitting room with dual aspect sliding doors filling this room with an abundance of light and drawing the eye from one end of the expansive lawned plot to the other. Both sets of doors adjoin a patio area meaning that the home's occupants can track the sunshine in the Summer months for many moments of alfresco entertainment. Central to the room is a fireplace with interesting stone surround and hearth. Due to the L shaped nature of this room the current vendors have incorporated a table and chairs for formal dining here. The wall adjoins the kitchen so subject to the necessary advice/permissions and for those desiring open plan kitchen/dining/living, the wall could be removed.

Opposite the sitting room and across the hallway is the kitchen with room for a breakfast table and chairs. The room has a generous amount of wall and base units which would impress any great cook/baker. There is a waist height double oven, separate electric hob with induction hood over, integrated fridge/freezer, integrated dishwasher and that all important and much love pantry cupboard. From the kitchen we have access to a second entrance that adjoins the garage and utility room that are a more recent addition to Longford. The utility room has housing for a washing machine, tumble dryer, a range of useful cupboards for storage, sink and a door to the rear garden. The double, integral garage is a very good size with concrete floor, windows and roll up electric door. This is an ideal addition for those requiring workshop space or have mechanical needs.

On the first floor are three bedrooms, airing cupboard and family bathroom. The landing is of note itself due to its 'light filled' quality. This has been further enhanced by the vendor's choice of neutral and fresh decor. The landing has a door that leads out onto a balcony -perfect for a bistro table/comfortable seating as additional outside space (just in case you needed a little more at Longford!) The master bedroom is extremely generous in size and could house the 'grandest' of beds. It is dual aspect and benefits from having a modern selection of fitted wardrobes with dressing table and wall lighting. Bedroom two is a double with front aspect and enjoys views of the many mature trees seen from the window. It has built-in cupboard storage. Bedroom three enjoys views over the rear garden, again with a view of mature trees and vast lawn. There is a built-in cupboard here, room for additional bedroom furniture and a sink of contemporary design with mirror and lighting above. There are also 'reading lights' above the bed. The family bathroom is tastefully and practically styled with space aplenty. There is a full size bath, hand-basin with vanity unit, mirrored cabinets, corner shower cubicle, W/C, window out and radiator.

Garden

Longford stands proudly within a very generous (circa 0.5 acre) plot giving privacy and circulatory space to the home. The front garden is laid to lawn with mature hedging and trees. There is an area of pathway and hard standing adjoining the home to provide a number of seating/entertaining options.

The majority of the plot lies to the rear of the house with an extensive lawned area which would definitely require the purchase of a sit on lawn mower. The lawn is interspersed with a variety of mature ornamental trees.

Adjoining the rear of the property is an area of patio for outdoor entertainment.

Garage & Parking

A more recent addition has been the construction of a double garage that adjoins the property and sits neatly to the side and off the main driveway, useful to any new owners with multiple cars/motorhomes or requiring the garage to act as a workshop with vehicular access.

Longford has its own driveway that highlights how sat back the property is from the village road again giving it an air of 'standing alone' and privacy.
