There's just something about this house. It's got the character and space you get from an older home, but with the kitchen, bathrooms and finish you'd actually want today. Two reception rooms, an extended kitchen diner, three bedrooms and a brilliant garden make it a proper family home. The current owners have brought both of their children home here, entertained friends, made memories and properly enjoyed it. Now their family is growing and it's time for the next move. It's stylish, full of character and just feels good the minute you walk through the door.
