THE PROPERTY

Welcomed to the market for the first time since its construction during the 1970's, what was meant to be a stop gap has spent the past five decades being a much loved family home. The original accommodation has been cleverly extended to provide an additional guest bedroom beyond the garage which adds a good degree of flexibility to perspective purchasers. The property has been well maintained during our client's ownership and includes a gas fired central heating system and extensive double glazing. It is worth noting that the property offers excellent parking arrangements with a long private driveway suitable for three vehicles.

ACCOMMODATION

To the front of the property is a double glazed entrance porch with doorway leading to a central entrance hallway with loft access. On your left is the dual aspect sitting room, opposite the dining room/bedroom three. The master bedroom overlooks the rear garden and includes fitted wardrobes. There is modern bathroom comprising a white suite with shower over and extensive tiling. While the kitchen includes a good range of wall and base units in cream with marble effect work surfacing and space for appliances. From the kitchen a tiled passageway leads to the guest bedroom with en suite facilities, utility space and integral access to the garage.

OUTSIDE

The the front of the property is a level lawned garden with mature shrubs, garage and driveway. Beside the garage is a useful area for bin storage. The rear garden features a large seating area with raised bed, established shrubs and outside tap.

SITUATION

The property is centrally located within the picturesque village of Musbury which stands on the eastern flank of the River Axe, midway between Axminster and Seaton. There is a local primary school, parish church, public inn and garage with convenience store/post office. The nearby market town of Axminster (3 miles) has a good a selection of shops including two supermarkets, plus schools, churches and a main line railway station on the Exeter to Waterloo line, while the coastal town of Seaton (4 miles) has many small independent retailers, a local hospital, major supermarket, doctors surgeries, primary school, banks and building societies. Seaton is a popular resort for holiday makers, and boasts a wealth of activities including golf, tennis, bowls and sailing.
