DESCRIPTION

Hedgerose is an interesting & individually designed home built circa 1997, set in an elevated position on the edge of the sought after village of Goodleigh enjoying outstanding countryside views. The property has been tastefully modernised, combining contemporary touches alongside some unique original features and offers spacious and versatile accommodation. Externally the property benefits from a gated entrance with extensive parking and former double garage which has planning to convert to two story ancillary accommodation, with a lot of the structural work already done, however could be adapted to a studio, home office, workshop etc. The impressive gardens to the property are extremely private, just under an acre and offer an assortment of mature plants, shrubs and trees along with meandering paths and sweeping lawns.

ACCOMMODATION

A welcoming hallway with stone flooring leads to a staircase rising to the first floor and a striking galleried landing above. The sitting room is a wonderfully inviting space, carpeted and featuring a lathe-brick fireplace with wood-burner and wooden mantel. With triple-aspect windows and exposed beams, it's full of charm and natural light.

A door opens into a highly versatile reception room, complete with French doors that lead out to the raised decking area with glass balustrade - perfect for enjoying the far-reaching countryside views. This room also connects to a large downstairs studio room, originally an artists studio but currently used as an additional bedroom. Finished with oak parquet flooring and dual-aspect windows. With built-in units and a sink, this area offers excellent potential for multi-generational living or an annexe.

The kitchen/diner is a standout feature of the home, with stone flooring continuing from the hallway. It includes a range of fitted units, a breakfast bar with granite worktops, ceramic sink, gas Smeg hob, Neff double oven, and Bosch dishwasher. Triple-aspect views and French doors to the raised decking make it an ideal space for family life and entertaining. A useful utility/boot room provides additional storage, a Belfast sink, space for white goods, and direct access to the outside. Completing the ground floor is a stylish WC and a dedicated office with built-in shelving, which could also serve as an extra bedroom if needed.

The galleried landing with exposed beams provides access to four generous double bedrooms and the family bathroom. The impressive principal bedroom includes a walk-in wardrobe and a beautifully finished ensuite with tiled flooring, freestanding bath, twin vanity sinks, WC, and shower cubicle. The remaining three double bedrooms all feature built-in wardrobes and storage. Bedroom three is currently arranged as a twin room for holiday guests but comfortably accommodates a double bed. The family bathroom offers a WC, sink, bidet, shower enclosure, and bath.

OUTSIDE

A gated entrance opens to a gravel driveway with ample parking.

The double garage benefits from planning permission for conversion into a two-storey annexe. Structural work has already begun, offering an exciting opportunity for completion or adaptation into a home office, workshop, studio etc.

There is built-in storage beneath the house and additional covered storage under the raised balcony.

The South-facing gardens, extending to just under an acre, are wonderfully private and thoughtfully landscaped with mature trees, shrubs, and planting. Meandering pathways lead down to a sweeping lawn, with the grounds wrapping around the property. A garden shed sits to the front for further convenience.
