The Property

Foxes Pitch is a detached three-bedroom cottage occupying an elevated position on the edge of Caersws, set within approximately three acres and enjoying far-reaching views across the Mid Wales countryside to the hills beyond. Originally built in 1910 as two separate cottages, the property has been in the same ownership since 1997 and presents an opportunity to acquire a genuine smallholding with no onward chain.

The kitchen is well fitted with a range of wall and base units, tiled work surfaces, and a dual-fuel range-style cooker. The principal living room is an impressive, generously proportioned space with a beamed ceiling and an exposed brick fireplace housing a substantial wood-burning stove set on a slate hearth. Double doors open directly onto the front patio, making the most of the setting and views. Two further reception rooms provide flexibility of use, both benefiting from the elevated outlook, while the sun room is a particularly bright space with windows to three aspects, exposed timber beams, and views across the garden and surrounding fields. A ground floor WC completes the layout, and there is clear scope for reconfiguration if desired.

Upstairs, all three bedrooms are doubles and take full advantage of the position, with front-facing windows framing long views across the valley towards the hills. The family bathroom serves the first floor. Subject to the necessary permissions, there is potential to rework the layout or extend to further enhance the accommodation and setting.

Externally, the property is particularly strong. Flagged patios wrap around the front and side, providing generous outdoor seating areas, with the front terrace enjoying especially open views across surrounding farmland. The grounds extend to around three acres, with a large paddock sweeping around the house, currently laid to grass and enclosed by hedging and fencing.

The outbuildings are a key feature, arranged around a yard and including a stable, garage, workshops with power and lighting, and a range of additional stores and timber-clad buildings, providing substantial practical space. One is understood to be the original bakehouse serving the two cottages when first built, adding an extra layer of interest. There is ample parking, and the buildings offer flexibility for smallholding or equestrian use, workshop space, or potential conversion, subject to the necessary consents.

A characterful country property with history, land, extensive outbuildings and wide-reaching views, Foxes Pitch offers a versatile opportunity in a well-regarded Mid Wales setting, with the added benefit of no onward chain.
