Seller Insight

West Lodge first found us over 40 years ago—almost by accident,” says the current owner. “Our accommodation had fallen through, and by chance, we came across this charming 1900 thatched cottage. It was the first time it had ever been rented, and we were lucky enough to call it home. Our daughter was even born here. Life eventually took us to a new build in Bearsted, but my heart always remained in the peace of this place. Years later, fate intervened again. Overhearing a conversation about Barham Court being sold, I inquired about the lodges. West Lodge was in a terrible state, but I leapt at the chance. Re-thatching the roof, replacing rotten window frames, rewiring, replumbing—what I didn’t know, I learned along the way. It has been a labour of love.”

“Inside, the cottage offers warmth and character in spades,” the owner continues. “Entertaining is a dream here, with plenty of space to host both indoors and out. Day to day, the dining room desk has been my favourite spot, with sunlight pouring in and views of the garden. It is a joy to see the flowering cherry tree burst into life each spring, along with red and white camellias, bright yellow tulips, and lush lawns surrounding it all. There is also a useful brick outbuilding, a wooden shed, and a modern garage with a carport, which has provided shelter for countless al fresco meals, come rain or shine!”

*The location of the property has much to recommend it, too: “Tucked at the end of the lane, West Lodge borders a 400-year-old brick wall with the churchyard just beyond. Two acres of woodland stretch out ahead, and the expansive parklands of Barham Court lie quietly to the left. The quaint village of Teston is nearby, offering daily essentials, and the county town of Maidstone is just a short distance away for shops, restaurants and other amenities. But it is the peace and quiet that reigns here. For us, West Lodge has been more than a home—it has been a sanctuary. But now, it is time for someone else to fall in love with it.”

West Lodge

Fine & Country are delighted to present West Lodge, a truly enchanting former gate house idyllically nestled within the historic grounds of Barham Court.

This unique, double-fronted thatched cottage enjoys a picturesque and peaceful setting, bordered by ancient woodland, a 400-year-old brick wall, and with the parklands of Barham Court quietly unfurling to the side. With roots deep in Kent's heritage, West Lodge offers a rare opportunity to own a beautiful period home combining timeless charm with modern practicality.

Approached via a generous driveway, the property is framed by its beautifully established gardens, featuring a profusion of mature specimen trees, vibrant seasonal planting, and secluded spaces ideal for peaceful reflection or entertaining. Inside, the home exudes great character, with timber-framed windows and a warm, welcoming atmosphere. The country-style kitchen, complete with doors opening directly onto the garden terrace, sets the tone for relaxed everyday living.

The ground floor offers versatile accommodation, including two elegant reception rooms, each enhanced by graceful bay windows and open fireplaces that lend a cosy ambience in the cooler months. A ground floor bedroom and accompanying bathroom add to the flexible layout, while one of the reception rooms could equally serve as a third bedroom if desired, while storage options have been cleverly integrated throughout.

Ascend to the first floor and you're greeted by a charming minstrel's landing, leading into a striking primary suite. This entire upper level is dedicated to comfort and retreat, boasting vaulted ceilings, an architecturally pleasing picture window, and the added luxury of an en-suite bathroom.

Outdoors, West Lodge continues to impress. The gardens, lovingly cultivated over the years, are rich with flowering cherry trees, red and white camellias, tulips, and a well-kept lawn, offering both colour and fragrance through the seasons, while a patio area off the kitchen provides the perfect setting for al fresco dining.
