Set back behind a generous frontage in the heart of the highly desirable village of Thornton, The Old Vicarage is an elegant and substantial period residence dating from 1865. Steeped in heritage and presence, the property displays a wealth of original features both inside and out, standing within a superb plot extending to just over two acres. From its elevated position, it enjoys far-reaching views across unspoilt countryside to the rear, offering an exceptional sense of privacy and tranquillity.

Internally, the property offers in excess of 3,300 square feet, successfully combining period grandeur with practical family living. Importantly, it is not listed, affording valuable flexibility for sympathetic alteration or enhancement if required.

Thornton is a small, picturesque village in Leicestershire, known for its rural charm and historic character. It sits near Thornton Reservoir, offering scenic countryside views and a peaceful, community-focused atmosphere.

Accommodation:

The accommodation is arranged over two floors and is introduced via a striking reception hall, featuring an original staircase rising to a galleried landing above.

The ground floor provides four beautifully proportioned reception rooms, each offering versatility and character, ideal for formal entertaining or relaxed family living. A particularly generous study offers an excellent space for home working or could be equally suited as a hobby room. The kitchen/breakfast room forms the focal point of the home, providing ample space for dining and everyday life, and is complemented by a utility room, ground floor WC and a useful cellar for additional storage.

To the first floor, the sense of space continues with five well-appointed bedrooms arranged around the central gallery, creating a light and airy feel throughout. A guest bedroom benefits from an en suite shower room, while the remaining bedrooms are served by a well-proportioned family bathroom.

Gardens and land:

Outside, the grounds extend to approximately 2.04 acres and are a defining feature of the property. A substantial patio terrace provides an ideal setting for outdoor dining and entertaining, overlooking sweeping lawns that gently fall away towards a full-sized ménage.

The grounds are particularly well suited to equestrian or lifestyle use, with three stables and two paddocks already in place. A detached brick-built former coach house, currently utilised for stabling and storage, offers further versatility and potential.

Location:

Thornton is a picturesque and well-regarded village, best known for Thornton Reservoir and surrounding woodland walks, offering a peaceful rural setting with a strong sense of community.

The surrounding area provides access to some of Leicestershire's most attractive countryside, including Bradgate Park, Beacon Hill and Swithland Woods, all ideal for outdoor pursuits. Village amenities include a popular primary school, church, local shop, garden centre and a well-regarded pub/restaurant.

A range of highly regarded state and independent schools are within easy reach, and the village is well placed for commuters, with convenient access to Leicester, the M1 (J22), East Midlands Airport and rail services to London and Birmingham from Leicester, Nuneaton, Loughborough and East Midlands Parkway railway stations."
