THE EXTERIOR

Set within just under three acres of beautifully arranged grounds, the property offers a thoughtful blend of leisure, practicality, and charm. A well-maintained tennis court, enclosed by wire fencing and framed with attractive box hedging, provides a perfect space for recreation, while a heated swimming pool sits invitingly opposite the rear of the house, ideal for both relaxation and entertaining. A recently rebuilt detached outbuilding, complete with air conditioning, adds versatility—suited to a range of uses from a home office to a guest space.

The grounds continue to impress with a watered paddock enjoying open views across privately owned land, enhancing the sense of privacy and rural appeal. Gated access leads to a private driveway and a car port with space for two vehicles, approached via a long shared driveway from Park Lane. A stone-paved terrace spans the rear of the house, creating an ideal setting for outdoor dining, while a lavender-lined pathway gently connects the property to the drive. For added convenience, a secondary entrance provides direct access to the garden from Brook Road.

THE CHARACTER

With the main residence built with a timber frame in the Jacobean era, the property retains a significant number of original and character features throughout. Exposed ceiling beams, original windows and surrounds, original fireplaces and charming woodwork can be spotted throughout.

The striking atrium entrance, a more recent addition, featuring solid oak and expansive glazing beneath a vaulted ceiling, it blends seamlessly with the property's overall style while creating an impressive and light-filled first impression.

The north, east and south aspects of the plot are walled, with stunning brickwork reflecting the character of the home itself.

The village of Brook is a desirable location in the Surrey Hills, with a cricket green and pavilion, and access to miles of unspoilt countryside around you.

Brook Grange is situated approx. 1.2 miles from Witley station, which is on the main line to Waterloo. The property is also within a short drive of the A3, heading into central London and to the coast.
