Cwm Celyn

Betws-Y-Coed LL24 0HZ

£475,000

A rare opportunity to acquire a versatile detached former farmhouse together with converted and renovated outbuilding, standing within its own secluded grounds in a truly outstanding woodland setting.

Tenure: Freehold. EPC - D. Council Tax Band F

Cwm Celyn is approached up a three mile forestry track on the outskirts of Betws-y-Coed towards the Lledr Valley, enjoying a peaceful and highly private position surrounded by mature woodland and natural scenery.

The property offers spacious and adaptable accommodation which could suit a large family home, multi-generational living or potential ancillary letting accommodation, subject to any necessary consents. The accommodation retains a wealth of original character and charm throughout including exposed stone walls, beamed ceilings, slate flagged and quarry tiled flooring together with feature fireplaces and a traditional inglenook with wood burning stove.

Sympathetically improved whilst retaining its historic appeal and benefits from solar panels, double glazing and a combination of modern and traditional fittings. The extensive accommodation provides a flexible layout with potential for a self-contained annex arrangement if required.

Location

Cwm Celyn enjoys a truly secluded setting, located deep within a forest environment approximately three miles along a forestry track on the outskirts of Betws-y-Coed towards the renowned Lledr Valley. Occupying an elevated position amidst extensive woodland, the property commands a delightful natural setting with surrounding forestry, mature trees and unspoilt countryside scenery.
