THE PROPERTY

A well-presented 1950s end-of-terrace house, constructed in traditional brick and ideally located close to the centre of Dorchester in the popular Fordington area. The property has been thoughtfully refurbished by the current owners and features a superb single-storey rear kitchen extension with stylish fitted units, an integrated electric hob and oven, and space with plumbing for a washing machine, dishwasher, and tall fridge/freezer.

The sitting room is bright and welcoming, centred around a fireplace with a wood-burning stove. Stairs rise to the first floor, with useful understairs storage, while the ground floor also offers a modern bathroom, fitted with a white suite and a shower over a P-shaped bath.

Upstairs, there are two well-proportioned bedrooms.

OUTSIDE

A generously sized corner plot provides garden space to the front, side, and rear, predominantly laid to a low-maintenance lawn, offering a versatile canvas to create your ideal outdoor space. The garden is attractively enclosed by mature hedging and small trees, providing both privacy and greenery. Established flower borders complement the ample space for a vegetable patch or greenhouse, perfect for those with green fingers.

To the rear of the property, a high-quality timber garden shed with power connected offers excellent storage or could serve as a hobby or practical workspace.

SITUATION

Dorchester town centre offers a wide range of amenities alongside the vibrant and prestigious Brewery Square development, which features an array of shops, dining options, and a cinema.
