THE PROPERTY

Steeped in history, this Grade II listed former farm has a rich history and has played an important role within the village, having been an active farm for hundreds of years. The current owners have worked incredibly hard transforming Ashes Farm and the two adjoining holiday lets, along with the gardens and grounds into a delightful family home, which offers a great detail of flexibility as well as the opportunity to derive an income. The whole package is well balanced with plenty of accommodation, a useful range of outbuildings and attractive level gardens, including a paddock and field shelter, currently the home to three pygmy goats. Ashes Farm also provides great potential for those looking for multi generational living or looking to live a slice of the good life in one of East Devon's most popular villages. It is important to know that all of the kitchens and bathrooms have been remodelled and updated over the past three years and that the whole property has been tastefully redecorated in light neutral tones.

ACCOMMODATION

ASHES FARM HOUSE

The original farmhouse is built of stone elevation under a hipped thatched roof and is believed to date from the 17th century with a later single storey extension to the rear. The farmhouse boasts many features including inglenook fireplaces, beamed ceilings and flagstone flooring. There are three spacious reception rooms, all featuring fireplaces with the main sitting room overlooking the garden with double doors leading out. The kitchen is fitted with a wide range of units, along with integrated appliances and includes an adjoining utility room and WC. To the first floor are four double bedrooms and a large family bathroom recently remodelled, now incorporating a separate shower enclosure.

THE FLAT (KNOWN AS THE BYRE)

This spacious two bedroom apartment features a sizeable main reception room, a fitted kitchen to the rear, bathroom and two bedrooms. One large double and a single room.

ASHES FARM COTTAGE

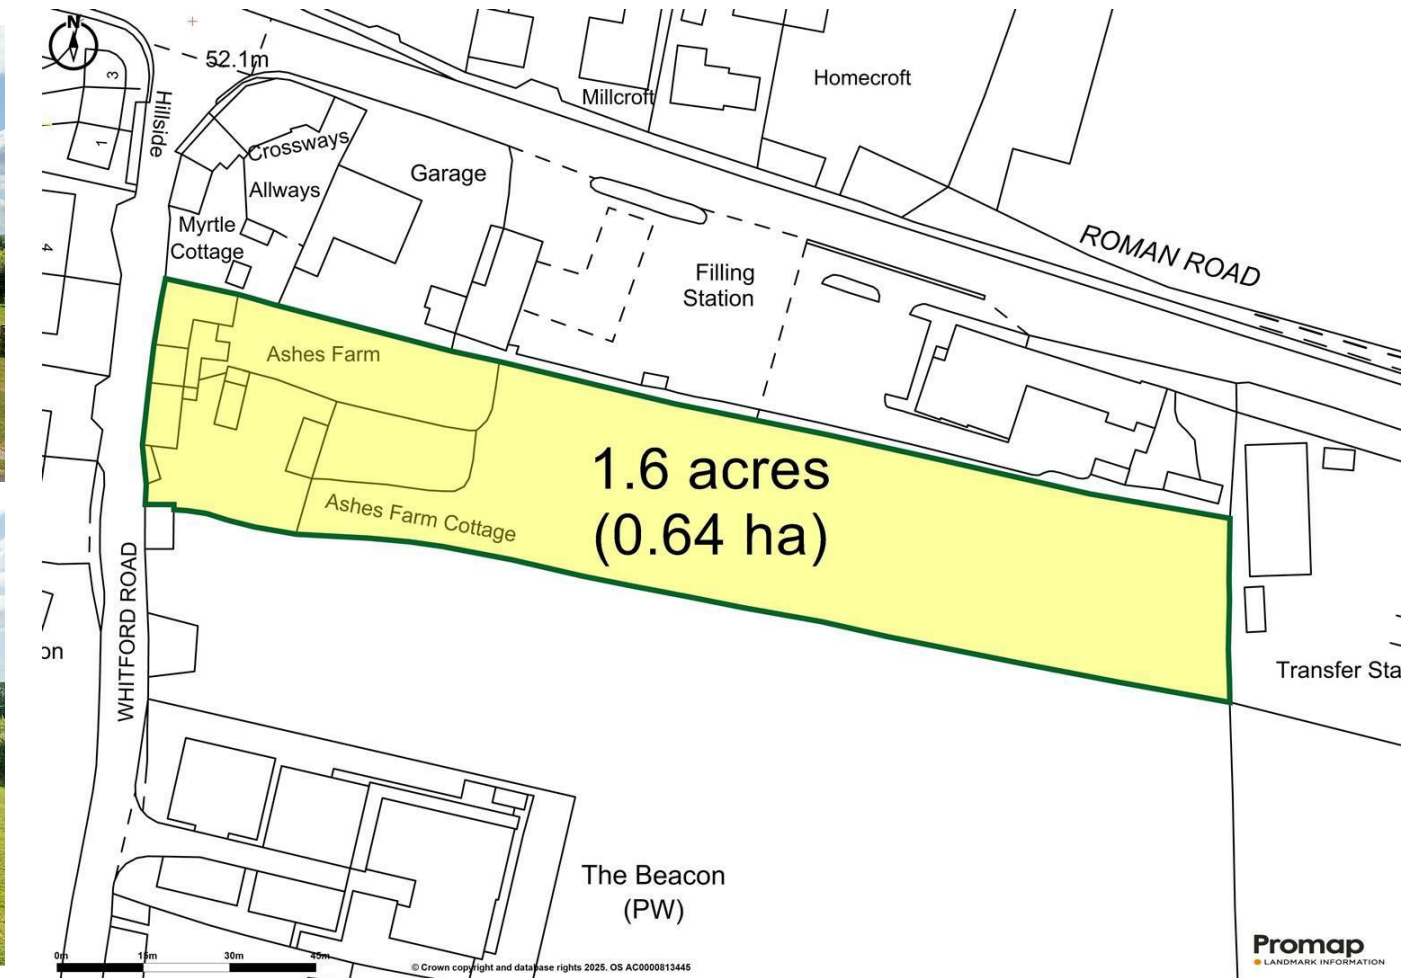

The cottage is accessed from the courtyard via the entrance vestibule which leads through to the kitchen. There is a pleasant dual aspect reception room with stairs leading to two generous first floor bedrooms. The shower room is located on the ground floor.

OUTSIDE

The property is approached from the roadside with gated access leading round to the courtyard, outbuildings and a gravelled parking and turning area. From the courtyard a concrete walkway leads to the rear of the cottage and apartment. Most of the formal gardens are to the rear of Ashes Farmhouse. Like the farm, these have been brought back to their former glory and much improved, yet retaining many of the original shrubs, specimen trees and a nice selection of historic fruit trees including plum and apple. The original stone privy has also been renovated to provide a useful garden store. To the right of the gardens a Devon bank provides a natural divide to a secondary area of lawned garden which the sellers have allocated for the enjoyment for their guests. From the courtyard gated access via a five bar gate leads through to the paddock. Part of this has been section off for the goats, whilst the remainder of the land forms part of a beautiful enclosed outdoor space with stock proof fencing and mature hedged boundaries. In total the properties and grounds measure in the region of 1.6 acres (0.64 ha).

OUTBUILDINGS

Within the courtyard is an attractive stone built hayloft with adjoining store room and the laundry. There is also a three bay carport besides the main area of parking.
