Agents Comments

The quality of Benn Hills Farm is evident not only in its scale, but in the care and craftsmanship seen throughout. Bespoke cabinetry, substantial internal doors, deep architraves, detailed cornicing and finely finished joinery give the house a sense of permanence and individuality, while the accommodation balances formal elegance with relaxed family living. The result is a home that feels both impressive and highly usable.

Its breadth of appeal is equally notable. The property would suit a family seeking space, privacy and multigenerational flexibility, a buyer requiring substantial home-working or leisure accommodation, or those drawn to country living with guest, staff or ancillary provision. Equally, the grounds, cottage, garaging and stabling will appeal to purchasers with equestrian, lifestyle or estate-management interests. Few properties combine this level of presentation, versatility and seclusion in such a well-connected setting.

The Main Residence

The main entrance opens into an elegant reception hall, setting the tone for the scale and refinement found throughout. Formal sitting and dining rooms lie to either side, both beautifully proportioned with high ceilings, detailed cornicing, substantial fireplaces and tall sash-style windows overlooking the front grounds. Beyond, the accommodation becomes more relaxed and family focused. The family room adjoins the bespoke kitchen, which is arranged around a central island and supported by a pantry, utility room and boiler room. The standout conservatory creates a bright setting for informal dining and relaxation, with extensive glazing and views across the rear gardens. A separate study provides a private home office or library, while the adjoining leisure wing includes a generous games room and an exceptional indoor swimming pool. Tall arched windows, glazed doors and a large roof lantern fill the space with natural light and the paved surround creates space for loungers and informal seating, with a shower room, WC and plant room completing the suite. The side entrance connects with the adjoining garage,

The main staircase rises to a broad central landing. At one end is the main bedroom suite, comprising a spacious bedroom, separate dressing room and en-suite bathroom. At the opposite end lies a second generous suite, also incorporating its own dressing room and en-suite facilities, giving both of the larger bedrooms a pleasing sense of separation and privacy. Three further bedrooms complete the accommodation. One benefits from an en-suite shower room, while the remaining two are positioned to either side of the family bathroom, creating a practical and well-balanced arrangement.

Garaging & Courtyard

Arranged around a substantial paved courtyard to the rear of the main house is a useful range of ancillary accommodation, centred around a large garage block measuring approximately 34'1" x 18'11" and approached through three individual garage doors. The courtyard provides generous parking and manoeuvring space, while a separate personnel entrance gives convenient everyday access. Above the garage is a substantial first-floor room, measuring approximately 38'1" x 15'10", providing flexible additional space for working, leisure or occasional accommodation, subject to the relevant planning and building regulations.
