DESCRIPTION

A three-bedroom end-terrace home enjoying a favourable position on Constantine Avenue, offering an excellent opportunity for buyers looking to update a property to their own taste. The location provides easy proximity to the University of York, convenient access to a range of local amenities, well-regarded schools, transport links, York city centre and the A64.

The ground floor features a spacious living room together with a kitchen diner positioned at the rear, creating a practical everyday living and dining space with direct access towards the garden.

To the first floor are three bedrooms along with the house bathroom. The accommodation would benefit from modernisation, giving the next owner plenty of scope to personalise and improve the home over time.

Externally, the property offers gardens to both the front and rear, with the end-terraced position providing additional outside space, including off street parking, to the side of the house.

A well-proportioned home ideal for first-time buyers, families or investors seeking a property with potential in a convenient and established residential area of York.
