SITUATION

Broadwater occupies a superb position, just a few hundred yards from the National Trust owned South Milton sands and the prestigious 18-hole Thurlestone golf club, whilst the centre of the village itself is less than half a mile away. With its many picturesque, thatched cottages and colourful gardens, Thurlestone is the epitome of a South Devon village. It is well-known for its 4-star, award-winning hotel and it also has a village Inn, post office/general stores, church and highly regarded primary school. There is a large, sandy beach with other, more secluded coves which are reached by walking alongside the coast path.

The villages of Hope Cove and Bantham are within comfortable walking distance along the beautiful cliff top pathways, which afford stunning views at every turn whilst Kingsbridge - the capital of the South Hams - is only some 5 miles distant.

Salcombe, Devon's southernmost town, is some 6 miles distant. With its beautiful harbour and unspoilt estuary, the town is a Mecca for yachting and water sports. Salcombe also offers an excellent range of fine shops, restaurants and inns, as well as lovely, sandy beaches and spectacular cliff top walking. Plymouth, with its rail and motorway links is some 22 miles or so to the north-west.
