GROUND FLOOR

On entering The Granary you appreciate immediately the pleasant balance of the traditional styling and design of this well-presented barn conversion. The entrance hall gives the first glimpse with its exposed features on show, complimented by the open plan layout and a great place to receive family and friends. This leads through to the main reception with its 30ft plus size offering open plan living at its best but still retaining a cosy feel throughout. A multitude of features are on show, complimented by the natural light coming from the floor to ceiling windows overlooking the rear gardens and the feature fireplace as the focal point of the room. A lovely room to relax or entertain and creates a pleasant ambiance throughout. Equally impressive is the open plan kitchen, retaining the many character features throughout whilst having all the mod cons you expect for everyday living. A natural place to congregate for an informal chat around the island. This leads nicely through to the dining area for more formal occasions but again is light and airy and having lovely views over the rear gardens via the bi-fold doors. A separate utility room sits off the kitchen and a downstairs cloakroom sits off the entrance hall.

SELLER INSIGHT

“The Granary has been our home for the past 21 years. It was originally my husband’s grandfather’s farm, so it had been in the family for generations. It was once a working dairy farm, and together we made the decision to convert five of the barns, one of which became the home we live in today. The renovation took two years, and so much love, care and hard work was poured into it.”

“Over the years we have fully modernised the property while still keeping its character and charm. We have a beautiful inglenook fireplace which makes the house feel incredibly cosy, and one of our favourite features is the secret en-suite bathroom hidden behind a wardrobe. We also created a large pantry and utility space, which has been invaluable for family life. We are incredibly proud of what we created here.”

“My favourite room in the house is the snug. During the day it is bright, airy and filled with light from the bi-fold doors and in the evenings, the lounge becomes wonderfully cosy with thanks to the inglenook fireplace.”

“The gardens have been such a huge part of life here. They are large and thoughtfully divided into different “garden rooms”. There is a rose garden, outdoor kitchen, hot tub area and summer house - each space offering something different depending on the mood or occasion. We also have a fenced pond with a peaceful Japanese-inspired area, and a stunning rose garden filled with David Austin roses that we will be so sad to leave behind.”

“The Granary has always been a wonderful home for entertaining. We have hosted bonfire parties, amazing barbecues, afternoon teas for the WI, family celebrations and countless gatherings over the years. With plenty of bedrooms, it naturally became the place where everyone came together.”

“The community here is incredibly friendly and supportive - everyone knows each other and is always willing to help. It feels very safe and has been the most amazing place to raise a family. There is such a strong community spirit, with a thriving village atmosphere and so much to get involved in, from walking groups and women’s institutes to film nights, fitness classes and events at the village hall. There are lovely canal walks, local shops with everything you could need, sports clubs, clubhouses and even a regular mobile library, which always felt like such a lovely touch.”

“What I will miss most is, quite simply, everything. The Granary has been the most wonderful family home and holds so many special memories for us. It’s the kind of village that people rarely want to leave, and I think that says everything about how special it really is.”*
