BURLEY ROAD, BRANSGORE, BH23 8DB

Guide price £900,000

Set down a secluded driveway and enclosed by established woodland, the site enjoys a private and peaceful position on the edge of the New Forest, one of the South's most desirable lifestyle and tourism destinations. This represents an attractive lifestyle and income opportunity, combining owner accommodation with clear business potential in an area that benefits from strong year round visitor demand.

The property has historically operated as a static caravan business, with three mobile caravans positioned on site under existing planning permission for their current use. The caravans are now at the end of their useful life and require replacement, giving an incoming purchaser the opportunity to install new units and re establish the business. With planning in place for the existing caravan use, the site provides a strong foundation for a buyer looking to create a successful income producing enterprise in a highly sought after New Forest location.

Extending to approximately one third of an acre, the site is well configured and naturally screened, creating privacy and seclusion. The layout lends itself well to continued caravan use, with each pitch benefiting from its own garden area together with dedicated parking spaces, helping to ensure practicality and independence for guests.

The three bedroom cottage provides owner accommodation and offers versatile living space, with scope for further enhancement or modernisation, subject to the necessary consents. This creates an ideal live and work arrangement for owner operators or purchasers seeking a lifestyle business.

Additional features include two detached garages, providing useful space for storage, maintenance or day to day operational support.

Opportunities combining residential accommodation with established caravan use in such a prime New Forest setting are increasingly rare. This property will appeal to purchasers seeking a well located business opportunity with clear potential to generate income.
