GUIDE PRICE £190,000 - £210,000.

Set within the ever-popular Oak Tree House, this superb second-floor one-bedroom apartment delivers space, style and an outlook that's far better than your average scroll. Built in 2011 and beautifully presented throughout, it also boasts a 138-year lease, meaning long-term peace of mind comes as standard.

Step inside via the secure intercom entry system and you're welcomed by a generous hallway that leads through to a fantastic open-plan lounge, kitchen and dining space — perfect for hosting, unwinding or pretending you're on an interiors shoot. The kitchen is well appointed and the room flows effortlessly onto a private balcony, where leafy green views do all the heavy lifting.

The bedroom is a genuinely great size, complete with fitted wardrobes, while the modern bathroom is sleek, stylish and ready to impress.

Outside, the box-ticking continues with allocated parking plus visitor spaces, making everyday life refreshingly easy.

Whether you're buying your first home, upgrading your lifestyle or investing smartly, this apartment proves that location, space and longevity really can come together — and look this good doing it.

Schoolfield Road is ideally positioned for those seeking a balance of convenience and green surroundings. The area benefits from a range of local amenities, including shops, cafés and leisure facilities, all within easy reach, while nearby open green spaces provide welcome outdoor escapes.

Grays town centre is close by, offering a wider selection of retail, dining and entertainment options, along with excellent transport links. Grays station provides direct rail services into London, making this a popular location for commuters. Road users are well served by swift access to the A13 and M25, connecting the area efficiently to London and beyond.

Well suited to professionals, first-time buyers and investors alike, this location continues to attract those looking for accessibility, value and everyday ease without compromising on lifestyle.
